

International workshop on
Subjectivity and Intersubjectivity: the pragmatic perspective
University of Eastern Piedmont (Vercelli, Italy), 4-5 June 2020

Workshop description

This workshop investigates subjectivity and intersubjectivity as key notions to interpret and explain different kinds of linguistic phenomena and strategies, with a special focus on their encoding, function and applicability in the pragmatic domain.

The workshop encourages submissions starting from different current definitions of subjectivity and intersubjectivity, investigating data from both modern and ancient languages, synchronic and diachronic perspective, providing qualitative and quantitative analyses, examining different text types and discourse genres.

Call for papers

We invite submissions for oral presentations (20 minutes plus 10 minutes for discussion) dealing with any aspects related to the topic of the workshop.
